IMPORTANT NOTICE

Bause Catered Events limits the number of events that it handles on a particular day depending on the total number and type of events already booked.

In other words, we sometimes stop taking reservations for a particular day rather than overloading our resources and risking the satisfaction of clients who have already booked our services.

At Bause Catered Events we have chosen to totally satisfy our clients rather than just make another sale.

Once we have said "yes" to a prospective client, that client can have total "peace of mind" that Bause Catered Events will dedicate all of its resources to the success of the event.
